

CONTENTS

COVER STORY

STAYING IN TOUCH 16
French bank Crédit Agricole is using Microsoft's unified communications technology to improve customer service while simultaneously cutting costs

FEATURES

MOVING ON 22
Legacy payments systems are damaging banks' attempts to improve efficiency and compliance. But rip and replace is a high cost, high risk option. Is there a middle way?

RISKY BUSINESS 28
Risk management is perhaps the financial sector's highest priority, given the events of the last year. How are firms using technology to steer clear of bad risks?

MARKETWATCH

NEWS 8
Microsoft's announcements from its Worldwide Partner Conference, plus a preview of Sibos, head up our review of financial technology news

INDUSTRY FORUMS

TRANSFORMING SALES IN BANKING 34
Web 2.0 techniques are central to the way in which retail banks must relate to their customers

EVERY PROBLEM HAS A SOLUTION 36
The insurance industry must embrace innovative technology to boost its performance

COMMENTARY

THE NEXT GREAT LEAP 38
Why Group Chat might be the most important technology investment you can make

SCALE ADVANTAGE 40
Small banks need state of the art payments systems to compete with larger players

ANALYSIS IS THE SOLUTION 41
Analytic tools are key to unlocking the benefits of new risk management systems

WILL BANKING WAKE UP TO GREEN IT? 42
With IT responsible for up to two per cent of carbon emissions, why is banking failing to deliver?

PROFILED

TECHNOLOGY IMPLEMENTATIONS 44
Project reports from Amstel Lease, Bank of America, Financial Life Support and Caixa Galicia

FORUM

ADDRESSING DATA QUALITY 48
The useful lifespan of customer data is short, so careful management of data quality is essential for business success and customer peace of mind